MINE DISASTER.

One Hundred Miners Meet an Untimely Death.

DROWNED BY A WATERSPOUT.

A Great Disaster in Hungary—Its Full Extent Yet Unknown—A Mining Village Swept Out of Existence—Other Foreign Dispatches.

VIENNA, May 14.—Dispatches from Fuenfkirchen, in Hungary, say that a waterspout burst over the mines near the city yesterday and flooded them and that between eighty and one hundred miners, if not more, have been drowned. The flood came shortly after noon. The atmosphere had been heavy and the temperature high in the morning. An hour before the waterspout burst the wind which had been from the south, shifted to the east and drove up over the mountains near Pesevarad, a huge mass of clouds, at first yellowish gray but quickly deepening to dead black.

The clouds were whirled along the crest of the mountains by the wind which rose to a gale, skirting the coal fields on the north, they had assumed the form of an enormous cone with its apex almost resting on the mountain tops. The men at the mouth of the pits ceased work, and two gangs of men from the pit nearest the mountain became alarmed and refused to descend. They started for their homes to wait for the storm to blow over.

Suddenly the wind shifted to the north, the darkness increased, and the cone was swept directly over the collieries. It burst a moment later and the water came down in a deluge, sweeping the men from their feet, wrecking the shanties and pouring in floods down the shafts. Large buildings were swept from their foundations, the roofs were crushed in and furniture and tools were carried through shattered doors and windows by the wind and water. Several men standing at the pit entrances disappeared in the first rush of the flood and are supposed to have been carried down the shaft with the water and wreckage.

In the mines the full force of men were at work. The total number is said to approximate 300 or 400. They had absolutely no warning of the coming disaster as the men on the surface had refused to descend after the waterspout began forming. The lower galleries in several mines are said to have been completely flooded, although the water did not rise to the upper galleries. In one pit there are fifteen dead; in another, seven; in another, nine. In other pits the woodwork and sides were so loosened by the falling water and debris that no careful examination has been made, and the details of the loss are not to be ascertained.

The volume of water broke with a rushing report that alarmed the whole city and within thirty minutes thousands of men and women were hurrying out to the scene of destruction. Volunteers were called for at all the pits and men from the night shifts were sent down the shafts, which had been left reasonably safe, to rescue their comrades.

The first descent was made in the mine where about fifteen men were at work on the lowest level. The men in the upper galleries were found uninjured and were carried to the top. Nobody in the lowest gallery was alive to tell the story of the disaster. The mine was flooded at that level and several bodies were found floating in the water and were sent up. No more can be done before the pumping out of the mine. It is reported that the number of the dead in this mine may reach twenty.

At another pit the entrance of the lowest gallery was under water and no bodies could be found. On this level at least seven men were at work. It is the pit where the miners refused to go down when they saw the waterspout coming and therefore but one-third the usual number were at work.

In the pit where nine men are known to have been lost there may be twenty or thirty more dead for the water rushed into the lowest two galleries. It completely submerged the lowest gallery, drowning every soul there.

In the other gallery no investigation has been made. Although the water in it is but two feet deep the timbers were moved or shattered by the force of the incoming flood and wreck, so that the rescue party has feared to enter. Whether all or only a few were killed is not yet known. At other shafts the number of dead is estimated all the way from ten to forty.

The whole mining colony is in the fields awaiting the results of the work of rescue.

The authorities of Fuenfkirchen have sent out fuel and food, and big fires have been built near the shaft entrance. A government official has been dispatched from Pesth to help superintend the relief of those rendered homeless or fatherless by the storm. Much of the machinery for pumping out the mines was so damaged by the force of the flood as to be practically useless, and the company has telegraphed to Pesth for new machines.

The department of the interior has received despatches hourly as to the progress of the work and they have been communicated to the emperor. An imperial courier has been dispatched to Fuenfkirchen with the emperor's contribution for the relief of the most pressing wants of the stricken families. This contribution is said to be 8,000 gulden, and a promise of more in case the progress of the work of rescue reveals greater loss of life than is now apprehended.

DELUGED BY WATER

Great Destruction Done by Overflowed Rivers.

St. Louis, May 14.—Reports from all parts of Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Nebraska and Iowa state that heavy rains have prevailed during the past twenty-four hours, swelling the already high streams until they are out of their banks and overflowing farm lands, and causing destruction to crops that hundreds of thousands of dollars will not cover.

All along the river front in the extreme limits of this city the water has flooded the cellars of business houses and covered the railroad tracks.

Hundreds of squatters along the river banks have been forced to seek refuge on higher ground.

Reports received from down the river as far as Vicksburg, Miss., state that the river is at a high stage and running swift, but the levees are in good order and probably will be able to withstand the pressure.

Missouri River Still Rising.

KANSAS CITY, May 14.—The Missouri river continues to rise and it is feared that the entire village of Harlem, will soon be flooded. The packing house there has been compelled to shut down. In Argentine, Armourdale and Kansas City, Kan., the water is flowing through the streets in the lower parts of the town and washing through many of the houses. Reports from Nebraska indicate that the rain continues and streams are very high.

Hundreds Homeless.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 14.—The Missouri is rising two inches an hour, and has already flooded many farms on the bottom, and driving hundreds from their farms. The rivers are now all within a few inches of the disastrous flood of 1883.

Floods in Iowa.

DES MOINES, May 14.—The rivers in this section are over their banks, and creating sad havoc with farm lands and city residence property. Dozens of families have been obliged to move out of their homes.

River Five Miles Wide.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 14.—The Republican river at Junction City is five miles wide and the Big Blue is over its banks at Manhattan. The Kansas river at this place is over its banks and is still rising.

Fears at Omaha.

OMAHA, May 14.—The Missouri river is rising and dire results are apprehended.

HOUSE AND SENATE.

Nothing of Importance Done in Either
Branch of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The entire day in the house was spent in filibustering against a private bill, which came over as unfinished business from last Friday, and therefore was entitled to consideration. It was a bill for the relief of the heirs of H. H. and Charlotte K. Sibley, and has occupied the attention of the house for several previous Fridays. H. H. Sibley was the patentee of what is known as the Sibley tent, and it is alleged that under a contract made in 1838 between him and the government, for the use of the tent, there is due to his heirs a large sum of money.

The provisions of the bill as finally agreed upon direct the court of claims to investigate the matter and render judgement for any amount found to be due, not exceeding $37,500, with the right of appeal by either party to the supreme court. The Republicans desired to have the court of claims instructed to report its finding to congress for action instead of authorizing judgement, and because the Democrats declined to adopt an amendment to that effect, proceeded to filibuster. At 4 o'clock a motion to adjourn was declared adopted, which had the effect of vacating the evening session for pension bills.

The proceedings of the senate were marked by emphatic utterances of warning from Senators Cockrell and Sherman on extravagance of appropriations, and notable speeches by Mr. Gorman and others on the proposed amendments to the naval appropriation bill for the continuance of the work of reconstructing the navy. Mr. Gorman plainly stated that the expenditures to which congress was committed would exceed the revenues for the next two years and mal-necessary an increase of taxation and that the Democrats in congress were powerless to prevent it.

Wedding Declared Off.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 14.—Another instance of the danger that lurks in the matrimonial advertisement has come to light in this city. A license for the marriage of Charles M. Kestuson and Effie M. Helper was issued by the clerk of Putnam county and then revoked by order of the girl's stepfather, Mr. Peter Bannunk, of the vicinity of Reelsville. The couple had opened a correspondence, with a view of "fun and matrimony," but when Kestuson appeared to claim his bride he was in a state of gross intoxication and the wedding was declared off. His home is in southern Indiana.

Attempted Train Robbery.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 14.—Early yesterday morning a band of desperate men attempted to hold up a passenger train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas but were foiled by the engineer who put on steam and carried the train out of danger. The robbers fired a volley at the cars, shooting Conductor Hurley through the arm, and wounding a number of persons who were struck by broken glass.

Big Fire in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, May 14.—Fire Thursday night destroyed twenty-seven buildings in Huntingdon, Habersham and Price streets, including several of the finest residences in this city. Loss over $100,000; insurance not yet ascertained, but is probably two-thirds of that amount.

IMPROMPTU STREET DUEL.

A Fatal Shooting Affray Occurs at Frankfort, Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 14.—An impromptu street duel occurred between Charles Owens and John L. Johnson at 9 o'clock last night. Owens was shot through the body and is dangerously wounded. Judge W. L. Jetts and Anthony Leach, two by-standers, were shot, the latter through the groin and Judge Jetts through the left hand. The shooting occurred near the corner of Broadway and Ann street, and was the result of an old grudge. Johnson is considered a dangerous man and was tried for murder at the last term of court.

Owens made the following ante-mortem statement: "I was leaning against the corner drug store when Johnson came along and told the bystanders to look out as he was going to shoot. The first shot brought me to my knees. The cause of the trouble was due to the fact that Johnson had ruined my family."

Zanesville Has a Ghost.

ZANESVILLE, O., May 14.—Several months since Miss Daisy Morris died a horrible death, the result of an abortion. The neighbors living in that section of the city are now excited over the report that her spirit haunts the house. An old lady named Nichols, living next door, says she has frequently seen the tall, graceful figure of the girl standing in the back doorway. She wears a sad and sorrowful expression on her face, and stands sideways in the doorway, one ghostly hand resting on the latch, as though about to enter, her head turned over her shoulder, and the other hand beckoning, as though calling some one to come and enter with her.

Another Tax Law Decision.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14.—In the appellate court yesterday another case was decided that involves a point in the new tax law. It is the case of Thomas Burns against the state, Huntington county. Burns refused to be sworn to a statement of value of property of other persons. Burns is a banker, and was alleged to have a knowledge of what certain persons in question had in the way of taxable property. Burns objected to taking the oath, alleging that the form of the oath was objectionable. The court authorized the conviction of the appellant, affirming the decision of the court below, which fined Burns under the new tax law.

Sensational Shooting Affray.

WARREN, Pa., May 14.—The village of Garfield, this county, was the immediate scene of a sensational shooting affray. A year ago Charles Harrington was sent to the western penitentiary for one year and three months on a charge preferred against him by Robert Raver, a pumpier. When sentenced Harrington swore vengeance on Raver, and when released, a short time ago, he came to Garfield with that point in view. Harrington went to Raver's house and was about to kick down the door when the latter shot him with a gun, killing him instantly. Raver is under arrest.

Preparing for Minneapolis.

COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—Colonel A. L. Conger, chairman of the sub-committee in charge of the arrangements for the Minneapolis convention, says the committee have allotted five tickets to each delegate for each day's session, one for himself and four for distribution. The tickets are separate and can be used by different persons at the three sessions each day. The Ohio quarters will be at the West House. John T. Woods, of Columbus, has been selected as one of the sergeants-at-arms of the national convention.

They Ate Raw Ham.

BOWLING GREEN, O., May 14.—Frank Asmus, a prosperous farmer near Hull Prairie, eight miles northwest, and Clarence Edwards, a boy in his employ, are suffering from well developed cases of trichinosis, contracted by eating raw ham cured by himself. Their condition is serious. They are attended by Drs. Greenfield, of Haskins, and Rheinfrank and Hamilton, of Perrysburg, neither of whom have ever before known a case of the kind in the county.

The Colored Race Heard From.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—John Henry Smythe, ex-minister to Liberia and Mr. Dulles, both colored, appeared before the house committee on appropriations yesterday and urged the appropriation of $100,000 for an exhibit at the world's fair, showing the progress made by the colored race. Mr. Smythe said that the colored race wished to illustrate to the world the advantages of freedom to a people. The committee took no action on the request.

Surrendered After Five Years.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., May 14.—Five years ago John Ayres and others were arrested and locked up in the county jail, charged with burglarizing the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern depot at Flushing. Ayres broke jail, and was never heard of until he appeared at Bridgeport Thursday, and surrendered himself to Joseph McConaughy, who was marshal at that time.

More Smallpox Emigrants.

COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—A letter from the commissioner of immigration at New York to Secretary Probst, of the state board of health, Friday informs him that twenty of the passengers arriving on the Belgienland May 10, with smallpox and measles on board, have come to Ohio towns. All of them go to eastern and northern Ohio cities.

Motorman's Life Crushed Out.

TOLEDO, May 14.—At 6:30 last night while two electric cars were crossing the Lake Shore bridge on St. Claire street, the bridge collapsed letting the cars to the ground. Frank Manet, the motorman on the rear car was caught between the two cars and his life crushed out. Two passengers on the rear car escaped injury.

NO MORE BISHOPS.

OMAHA CONFERENCE WORK.

Rev. Hanlon Creates a Sensation by His Declarations Respecting the Church's Attitude Towards Capital and Labor.
The Woman Question.

OMAHA, NEB., May 14.—The herculean form of Bishop Goodsell loomed up in the presiding officer's chair at the Methodist conference yesterday. Rev. T. Harroun of Wyoming conferred the devotional exercises. Gossip was floating about the conference hall that the laymen would defeat the effort to elect more bishops. Mr. Shinkle of Kentucky was authority for the statement that the laymen would vote three to one against the election of more bishops.

Notwithstanding the continued rainy weather the galleries filled up early with visitors and spectators. Several distinguished visitors were expected, among them Colonel E. F. Shepard, of New York, who will address the mass meeting on Sunday. The delegate from Italy, Mr. Louis Mandate, arrived and was given a seat in the conference. Dr. Buckley has been occupying the seat assigned to the Italian delegate. The seat was near the front. Dr. Buckley had to give it up. His own delegation is seated in the rear of the house and one of the New York delegates created a laugh by inviting Dr. Buckley to a seat with his delegation.

Bishop Newman arose to state a question of privilege. He requested the conference to hear a report from William Deering, of Chicago, with regard to the work of the committee in meeting the Presbyterian delegates on the way to Oregon. Mr. Deering, who by the way, is the wealthiest man in the house, reported that the committee had met the train of Presbyterian delegates and had invited them to visit the conference, but they could not accept the invitation because they had to pass on to Portland in order to reach that city in proper time. The Presbyterians were addressed in brief by Bishop Newman, and responded, saying they wished the conference god-speed.

Mr. Deering's report was received with marked attention. Rev. Thomas Hanlon, of Pennington seminary, sprung the first sensation of the day by introducing a resolution declaring that the Methodist Episcopal church should come out squarely upon the great struggle between capital and labor being waged in this country. He declared in his remarks that the church had not shown sufficient sympathy for the toiling millions.

"The laboring classes are drifting away from the church," said Dr. Hanlon. "Our church is made up of women to a large extent. The men are drifting away from it. We must take a stand on this great question affecting capital and labor. The church has been too much inclined to lean toward the interests of the capitalists."

Dr. Hanlon was vigorously applauded from the gallery. His resolution was referred to the committee on state of the church.

A delegate from the Indiana conference introduced a resolution to change the rules so as to admit women as lay delegates in the general conference, and to instruct the annual conference that either men or women may be elected as delegates. Referred to committee on lay delegation.

A resolution was offered touching the right of the bishops to vote in elections held by the book committee.

A resolution was introduced and referred ordering an inquiry into the reported evil of improper influences being sometimes used to secure official preferment in the church. The reading of the resolution was greeted with applause.

The remainder of the session was devoted to the reading of memoirs on deceased ministers.

The conference met at 8 o'clock in the evening and exchanged fraternal greetings with the delegates from the African Methodist Episcopal church.

DIED ON THE GALLOWS.

Elijah Cheevers Pays the Penalty of His Crime of Murder.

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 14.—Elijah Cheevers, the murderer of Deputy Sheriff Culpepper, paid the penalty of his crime on the gallows yesterday afternoon. The prisoner was taken from the jail at 11 o'clock and driven to the gallows in a carriage, two miles out of town, in the pine forest. Upon arrival at the gallows the prisoner inspected the rude pine box and made complaint that a coffin had not been provided for him.

After the religious services under the gallows, the prisoner mounted the steps singing, "My Dear Mother, Don't You Grieve After Me." He persisted in speaking until the drop fell at 12:27. He was pronounced dead at 12:42; five minutes later he was cut down. The murder of Culpepper was one of the most cold-blooded ever committed in this part of the country, and the execution of Cheevers gave general satisfaction to both white and colored.

Paymaster Robbed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 14.—Royal E. Fox, paymaster of the Solvay Process company, and James Hauser, his driver, were held up at 10 o'clock yesterday just outside of the city limits by two highwaymen and robbed of $2,300 which they were taking to the quarries.

JEFFERSON COUNTY Democrats declared for Cleveland Thursday.

"The tin—McKinley tin—plate farce has received another black eye," says the Georgetown News-Democrat. "Government statistics, just completed, show that we have only produced in the nine months, ending March 31st, tin-plates, of all kinds, sufficient to meet three day's consumption. The American production is just one per cent. of the importations. How easily are the people humbugged!"

THE Democrats of from fifteen to twenty States have already selected delegates to the National convention, and nearly every one of them have indorsed Cleveland. The State of Wyoming was put down for Hill, but a Democrat has written to the New York World and says that Wyoming sends six delegates instructed to vote as a unit on all questions, and that five out of the six men are known to be for Cleveland. While most of these States have indorsed Cleveland, yet the delegations are not bound by instructions, and are in a position to nominate a man who is not involved in the New York factional fight, if they deem it best to do so.

KENTUCKY TOBACCO.
Last Year's Yield—An Increase of Sixteen Million Pounds Over That of 1890.

The State Auditor has prepared a table showing the yield of tobacco in the various counties in Kentucky last year, the figures being those reported by the Assessors.

The total crop in pounds for the year was 183,038,432, an increase over the crop of 1890 of 16,236,466 pounds. The greatest increases for the year were shown in the crops of Henderson County, which grew 9,835,650 pounds in 1891, and only 6,175,450 pounds in 1890, a difference of 3,660,200 pounds, and in Graves County, which grew 11,227,800 pounds in 1891, and only 8,263,225 pounds in 1890, a difference of 2,964,575 pounds.

The crop in Christian County for 1891 was the largest, Graves County second, Henderson third, Daviess fourth, Owen fifth, Logan sixth and Mason seventh. Two counties in the State raised as much as 11,000,000 pounds and more in 1891, two counties raised between nine and eleven million pounds; five counties raised between five and six millions; fourteen counties between three and five millions, and twenty-six counties between one and three million pounds.

The yield in Mason County was 5,697,300 pounds, Fleming, 3,427,312 pounds, Robertson, 1,239,000 pounds, Bracken, 4,742,550 pounds, Lewis 1,025,150 pounds, and Nicholas, 3,120,450 pounds.

Mason County raised about 200,000 pounds more last year than the year before.

A table of aggregate crops in the State for nine years past in pounds is as follows:
 1883.....154,817,964

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET. [Thursday.]

The "breaks" were rather light, there being 118 hhds of old and 328 of new, making 446 hhds, which was 21 more than Thursday of last week. There was a very fair attendance of buyers, and they were bidding moderately. Old trashes and lugs are in moderate demand, but the market shows less activity. The common and medium old leaf is selling low, and there is no good or choice offering of any consequence. New trashes and lugs were in good demand, and prices were steady and firm. Common and medium new leaf is not in much demand, and prices are low. Good and choice new is offered in only small quantities, but what is on sale brings very fair prices. The Bodmann sold 1 hhd new at $23. Of the 118 hhds (old) 9 sold from $1 to $3.20, 25 from $1 to $5.50, 66 from $6 to $7.95, 10 from $8 to $9.00, 7 at $10 to $11, and 1 at $15.75. Of the 328 hhds (new) 8 sold from $1.50 to $3.70, 69 from $1 to $5.90, 131 from $5 to $7.90, 66 from $8 to $9.90, 26 from $10 to $11.75, 20 from $12 to $14.75 and 7 from $15.25 to $17 and 1 at $25.

MAJOR ARCHDEACON.

He Answered the Final Summons, and Passed Away Last Night.

Maj. John H. Archdeacon died last night between 10 and 11 o'clock at the home of his uncle, Mr. James Rice, on East Front street. His remains were removed this morning to the residence of his mother on East Second street, where the funeral will take place next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Hays will conduct the services. Burial private.

Major Archdeacon was a son of the late Nicholas Archdeacon, and was fifty-two years old last February. In early life he learned the printer's trade under Richard Collins, in the office of the old Maysville Eagle. During the late war he enlisted in the union army as a member of Company D, Second Regiment of the Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, at Camp Clay, just above Cincinnati. He was afterwards promoted to the rank of Captain of Company H. of the same regiment for valiant service. On several occasions he acted as Major of the regiment, although he was never commissioned to that position.

Along about the close of the war he was chief clerk for a number of years in the Quartermaster's Department of General Schofield's detachment of the regular army, stationed in North Carolina. On his return to this city he was assigned to a position in the Revenue service, and held it for a number of years. He was a man of good business qualifications and amassed a comfortable fortune that yielded him a handsome competency of late years.

Deceased was in many of the hottest engagements of the late war and one who knew him well says a braver soldier never shouldered arms in defense of his country. He numbered a wide circle of warm friends in this city and elsewhere who will regret to learn the news of his death.

The party will return by way of Old Point.

"SPARE the advertisement and spoil the business." This is the course adopted during warm weather by thousands of men who would not enjoy being informed that they were anything but clear-headed managers. It is, however, a fact that those nifty men who use advertising space in abundance during the summer months secure business which would not otherwise be theirs.—Printer's Ink.

JACOB DUNAWAY, of Bridgeport, this county, is said to have four of the finest tobacco beds in the neighborhood. One of the earliest beds is one hundred feet long and he can pull enough plants out of it now to set out five acres. Plants in the other beds will be large enough to put out by the 20th instant. Mr. Dunaway used on these beds some of the fertilizer that Mr. T. F. Goodwin sold.

CAPTAIN HEFLIN returned last evening from Cincinnati with William Sims, Jr., who is implicated in the robbery of Frost's saloon. The accused does not deny the charge, but claims he had nothing to do with breaking into the saloon. He says Charles Skinner effected the entrance. Sims got about $15 of the money, but had spent it all before he was arrested. He turned over a ring to Mr. Heflin that he admits he stole from the saloon. He was committed to jail to await trial to-day before Squire Grant.
